At that time John was just starting his business, American Corporate Security. Through the years John's business grew from a very

Re: John Lolos character reference letter

From: Steve Tortorice

I worked in law enforcement and corrections for 23 years and retired. I got into private investigation security/executive protection and Security Management for 15 years and now retired DONE. I have known John Lolos for 20 years as a hard working Security Guard business owner that built his company from scratch and made some money with a lot of hard work time and honesty with everyone including all of his clients that worked for the County and city contracts he handled. He hired trained and staffed of his people on construction contracts without complaints. Long grueling hours sometimes working himself, staffing, training to keep his business moving forward. While I was in Las Vegas as a Branch Manager for a Security Company he asked if I had ideas on paperwork that could help him in his business and I sent him some things that could enhance his business which it did and he was very happy to review the paperwork and was very happy to receive that information. He always had questions trying to learn more and get more business as an owner should. He spent so much time and effort building his business and make his clients happy as well as getting his name out for new clients he was consumed with it. John though out the years has been an honest, reliable, respectful of everyone, and a hard worker trying to be a good man and businessman. He has never exhibited any violence or broke any laws and is a all around good man.

Sincerely,

United States District Judge

"Re: Character reference of my friend and employer John Lolos".

Dear Judge Mehta,

My name is Ron Williams I work as a security officer for : Corp and for . I have known John Lolos for over 5 years. I have worked as a security officer for his company ACS Security part time on weekends for this period of time. I'm still on his call list when he needs help with open shifts. I can count on him for extra work when I need it. I've had health issues recently, and during this pandemic on top of that it has helped out enormously.

When I went into the hospital for Surgery; at the time I hadn't worked for John in months, but when he called and asked if I was available for work and found out I was in the hospital he immediately said if I needed help anything (rent or food) to just let him know. He also sent gift package and get-well card. He actually brought the gift to the hospital but they gave him the wrong room and floor So, he left the gift at the front desk with my name on it and the hospital delivered it to my room. Small things like that is just one of the ways I've personally experienced his kindness.

What I can say about John Lolos is that he is a straight forward business man. John is very generous, he goes above and beyond for his employees. He often buys gear for employees and offers any services they might need to get through the day to day work. He also gives money to employees for transportation to and from work if it is needed. During this pandemic when everyone has different struggles, he has shown great leadership and support to make sure his employees get everything that they need during these trying times. He is a great asset to his community never asking for anything in return for his kindness and generosity, that is the John Lolos I know and trust.

Sincerely,

Ronald W. Williams
